WHISKEY FLIGHTS: THE BIG THREE

The three main categories of American whiskey are Bourbon, Rye and Tennessee Whiskey. Each type of whiskey is produced under a different and specific set of regulations to ensure quality and deliver an individual and unique brown spirit. There is also enough similarity in the laws that govern the production of each whiskey that all three share certain characteristics that are specific to American Whiskey.

There is no better way to begin to understand and appreciate American whiskey than to sample from each of the three main categories and taste both the differences and similarities. The flights listed below offer the opportunity to explore each style at different levels of age and quality.
